

PORTLAND IS ELKS' MECCA

"Arizona Special" Will Carry State Delegation Over Southern Pacific to Annual Convention; Gatter Arranging for Train

Phoenix Elks have two weighty matters upon their minds at the present time and the favored house of members of the local lodge are voraciously with thought, while bank tellers are working overtime figuring out balances.

The first of the twain is the fat and lean ball game at Eastlake next Friday, and the second and most important—except to the players in the coming game—is the annual convention to be held this year at Portland, Oregon.

It has become a matter of local pride for the Phoenix lodge to turn out a flying squadron at each convention well able to represent in proper manner the merits of the state from which it comes. All remember the Atlantic City special, and the passengers on that train de luxe grin appreciatively every time it is mentioned even unto the present day.

Well ladies and gentlemen there is going to be another special this year to Portland that will make that Atlantic City Hotel Adams on wheels look like a Phoenix street. Just before it is paved, Archibald R. Gatter, esteemed exalted pater on of specious says so and if Gatter don't know who the Sam Hill does?

Gatter returned yesterday from Tucson where he conferred with the state officers and the state special and the railroad man is already exuding enthusiasm at every pore, which is some stunt in itself.

Mr. Gatter's big paw was in "Tuck-sah" was with C. W. Dickerman who is president of the state association, past exalted ruler of the Tucson lodge and candidate for grand esteemed lecturing knight at the hands of the Portland convention. Is Dickerman strong for the Arizona special? Dickerman is.

The exact date of leaving has not yet been definitely settled but is likely to be on July third for it is the purpose to stop a day in Los Angeles and another day in San Francisco, enroute to Portland, to the desert visitors being already planned in each of the big coast cities.

PIMPLES BEGAN TO ITCH AND BURN

Got Thick and Broke Out Into Little Sores. Tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Completely Cured.

Davenport, Wash.—"Two years ago I had skin disease on my face. At first there were only a few small red pimples and I did not pay any attention to them, but at last they got so thick and they started to itch and burn so that sometimes I thought I never would be able to stand it. After two months the pimples broke out into little sores. Then my sister told me to try Cuticura Ointment and Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. After one week I saw that the Ointment and Soap were doing me good so I continued to use them and after using them three months I found that I was completely cured of skin disease." (Signed) Mrs. William Seidenberger, Sept. 28, 1911.

After using them two months she was cured completely and now her skin is clear." (Signed) Mrs. G. Hosen, Sept. 29, 1911.

The Swine or The Flower?

Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty, wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred, Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye; Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of food!" I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first One glistening mass of roses pure and white, With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed; And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight, The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene, Whispered, "Behold the source of COT-TOLINE!"

It is going to be a perfectly gorgeous train, but Mr. Gatter promises to discuss that feature at a later date. He would now impress upon the minds and hearts of all loyal Elks that it is the early dodo who catches the lower berth wherefore now is the time to make reservations for the "Arizona Special."

At least seventy-five will go from this city and an attractive rate will be announced later.

DRESS REHEARSAL FOR OPERA OF RARE BEAUTY

Local Talent to Present "Stradella" at School of Music Wednesday and Thursday Nights

There is a rare treat in store for all who attend the opera which will be given at the School of Music on Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week.

The opera is staged and directed by C. R. Nuetzel, who although quite young, has shown by his cleverness that he has had wide experience in this line, having directed plays in many large cities of the east.

The cast is composed entirely of local talent who have been rehearsing faithfully for over a month and in the dress rehearsal handled themselves like experienced actors. The part, Stradella, is taken by Leon Tolleson, who does himself proud in his successful efforts to capture Leonore, who is loved by Bassi, a rich old patrician of Venice.

Miss Anna Marie Luke, who carries the part of Leonore, is a well known young lady of Phoenix, having a very sweet soprano voice, which responds to the serenade of Stradella and his pupils.

The scenic effects are very beautiful and especially painted for this production. No expense has been spared to make the opera a success.

Much credit is due to Mrs. Shirley Christy for her conscientious and consistent efforts to present so meritorious an opera by local talent. The company is deserving of the support of all those who can possibly attend. The overture of the opera Stradella is one of the most popular of all orchestral numbers.

Hundreds of live investment opportunities are awaiting large and small capital at Chandler, Arizona—the new town in the heart of nearly 100,000 acres of rich orange and alfalfa land—surrounded by the world's richest mining districts. This beautiful well-planned town is not a boom proposition—it is a logical trading point, made so by an agricultural district that will soon produce several millions of dollars' worth of products annually.

Chandler Townsite is in the heart of the great Chandler Ranch, where nearly three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of land have been eagerly purchased by California ranchers and fruit growers during the past few months. This is the rich territory watered by the great eight-million-dollar Roosevelt Irrigation System—the wonderful co-operative profit-sharing government water project you have been reading about during the past year.

There is a logical, consistent plan back of Chandler. It is being started right, under the supervision of the best architects and engineers in the West. The Mesa Improvement Company, owners and developers, are spending a fortune on the development of this town. Study the architect's plan pictured below. Note the beautiful plaza. Note the arched effect of all buildings in the business district.

AMUSEMENTS

SAVOY.

"With the Boys of the Figure Two," is an ideal story of life on a big western ranch which a critical western audience will be able to enjoy. Unlike so many of the supposed "western" films, this one is true to life and actual conditions as they exist on a great horse ranch.

For variety's sake the program at the Savoy tonight, is of a much lighter and less serious nature than the one just passed. "The Baby of the Boarding House" and "True Love" are two delightful series-comic pictures which will undoubtedly find immediate favor with theater goers, as they are really funny without being ridiculous. The bill closes with "The Price of a Silver Fox," a rushing story of the great Hudson Bay country, that will be doubly welcome on account of the cool breezes which will be wafted over the audience from the great snow fields.

THE EMPRESS

"The House of a Thousand Candles" is a drama that holds the interest of the audience from the first line to the last. The action is rapid and steadily moves forward to a climax in which everybody is about to be married and live happy ever afterward. MacLean as Bates, the butler, the man of mystery, is the big character of the play and his work in this role equals his impersonation of "The Devil" in the drama of that name. Mr. Adair as John Glenarr is excellent and portrays the character of an upright, unafraid young man very cleverly. Miss Madison in the role of Marian Devereaux, does not have the opportunity for as great a display of talent as she has in some others she has essayed in her character as leading lady of the company now at the Empress. "The House of a Thousand Candles" will be repeated again tonight.

THE COLISEUM

That clever cartoonist of comic caricature, Billy Elwood, of newspaper fame, will amuse and entertain the audience at the Coliseum tonight. Spatz & Spatz are scheduled to do a singing and talking act of much interest and Raugh and Grew will astonish the natives with a line of fun and foolishness warranted to kill the worst case of blues. New slides of the latest happenings in the world's arena will be shown and a number of interesting photo plays.

A RECORD TO BE PROUD OF

The Saturday Evening Post of Philadelphia in a recent issue prints photographs of twenty-one employees of Henry Disston & Sons, manufacturers of saws, files and other tools at their works at Tempe, a suburb of Philadelphia, each of whom had served this firm continuously for fifty years and some for longer periods, extending in at least one instance to sixty-two years. This is a most honorable record—honorable alike to the men and their employers. The record of over 1000 other Disston employees is also remarkable and also exceedingly creditable to all concerned—eighty men working from forty to fifty years, 188 men from thirty to forty years, 330 men from twenty to thirty years and 609 men from ten to twenty years. Working beside the above 1228 men are more than 2300 younger saw and tool makers of the highest skill, very largely the sons and grandsons of the older men. With the entire organization of over 3500, Disston progressiveness has been made a life habit. The men who make the saws and other tools that bear the name of Disston take personal pride in the quality of every piece. It is their life work. We do not believe that there is a plant in existence employing so many men, in which the personal spirit is so fine as in these works. We have never heard of a strike or even a misunderstanding of a serious nature at the Disston works, and we have been in close touch with their owners for forty years—American Iron and Steel Association Bulletin.

Frank P. Spear, educational director of the Boston Y. M. C.
